

February 10, 2017

To Whom It May Concern:

Calspan Corporation has been contacted by Perimeter Security Partners (PSP), LLC in Nashville, Tennessee regarding their acquisition of the SW-12 active wedge barrier from American Physical Security Group, LLC (APSG). PSP has rebranded the barrier with the product name "Phoenix Wedge Barrier". Calspan tested this barrier for APSG on March 21, 2008 and provided documentation to the US Army Corp of Engineers – Protective Design Center (PDC) who has listed it on their Vehicle Barrier List.

Calspan acknowledges the transfer of this property to PSP, LLC and confirms that it was tested at our Buffalo, New York facilities. PSP seeks to rename this barrier to reflect the current ownership. Calspan's acknowledgement recognizes that:

- Calspan has not subsequently tested or verified the barriers
- Calspan is providing this information based upon the assumption that the design/performance/construction/etc of the subject barrier has remained 100% unchanged from when the original testing/certificate was issued
- Calspan is providing this revised certificate for name-change purposes only

Calspan further acknowledges that any changes to the PDC listing will be enacted between PDC and PSP, LLC.

Respectfully:

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "R. Woodill", with a horizontal line extending to the right.

Robert Woodill

Manager – Perimeter Barrier Testing

Calspan Corporation

